Art. 3.

The tasks of the minister competent for the economy according to the Act shall be in particular proliferation and promotion of public-private partnership, performance of analyses and evaluations of functioning of public-private partnership, including the status and prospects for financial involvement of the private sector.

Chapter 2

Selection of the private partner

Art. 4.

1. If the remuneration of the private partner is represented by the right to collect benefits from the subject of the public-private partnership, or mainly such a right together with payment of an amount of money, the selection of the private partner shall be done applying provisions of the Act of 9th of January on concessions for construction works or services (. J.L., No. 19, item 101), subject to provisions of this Act.
2. In cases other than specified in section 1, the selection of the private partner shall be done applying provisions of the Act of the 29th of January 2004 – Public procurement law (J.L. of 2007 No. 223, item 1655 and of 2008 No. 171, item 1058), subject to provisions of this Act.

Art. 5.

The public entity, following placing of the announcement in the Public Procurement Bulletin or publishing the announcement in the Official Journal of the European Union as mentioned in the Acts referenced in art. 4, shall additionally publish information about the planned public-private partnership in the Bulletin of Public Information.

Art. 6.

1. The most advantageous offer is the offer that presents the most advantageous balance of remuneration and other criteria applicable to the subject of the project.
2. The criteria for evaluation of the offer shall be:
 - 1) division of tasks and risks related to the project between the public entity and the private partner;
 - 2) dates and amounts of projected payments or other considerations by the public entity, if such are planned.

3. The criteria for evaluation of the offer can also be in particular:

- 1) division of revenues from the project between the public entity and the private partner;
- 2) ratio of public entity contribution to private partner contribution;
- 3) effectiveness of project implementation, including effectiveness of assets use;
- 4) criteria referring directly to the project subject, in particular quality, functionality, technical parameters, level of technologies offered, operational costs, service.

Chapter 3

Contract of public-private partnership and implementation of public-private partnership

Art. 7.

1. By the contract of public-private partnership the private partner shall commit itself to implement the project at a remuneration and to cover in whole or in part the expenditures for project implementation or cover them by a third party while the public entity commits itself to collaborate for the purpose of achievement of the project goal, in particular by making own contribution.
2. Remuneration of the private partner shall primarily depend on actual use or actual availability of the subject of public-private partnership.
3. The contract of public-private partnership shall define consequences of inappropriate performance or nonperformance of commitment, in particular contractual penalties or decrease in the remuneration of the private partner or a company, as specified in art. 14 section 1.

Art. 8.

The public entity shall have the right of current control of the public-private partnership project implementation by the private partner. The principles and detailed procedure of conducting the control shall be specified in the contract of public-private partnership.

Art. 9.

1. Transfer of own contribution in the form of an asset, can take place in particular through sale, making available, transfer for use, lease or rental.
2. If an asset contributed by a public entity is used by the private partner in a way obviously contrary to its intended use specified in the contract of public-private partnership, the private partner shall transfer that asset to the public entity on principles specified in the contract of public-private partnership.
3. If the asset was the property of the private partner, the private partner shall be eligible to reimbursement of the value of the asset according to the status as at the moment of its transfer. In other case, the private partner might demand reimbursement of outlays necessary as far as they are not covered by the benefits obtained from the asset. Reimbursement of other outlays it can demand to the extent by which they increase the value of asset at the time of its transfer to the public entity. However, if the outlays were made after the time when the public entity demanded, in writing, transfer of the asset or obtained knowledge of filing against it a claim for such transfer, it can demand reimbursement of the necessary outlays only.
4. If the asset of the public entity represented contribution in kind to a company as specified in art. 14 section 1, its return in case of use contrary to the intended use shall be done on principles specified in the contract or company statutes.

Art. 10.

1. The public entity, immediately after termination of the contract of public-private partnership, shall select a new private partner, unless the project is to be implemented in a different way.
2. If, prior to selection of the new private partner, the public entity commissioned performance of tasks that are within the scope of the public-private partnership according to Article 67 section 1 of the Act of the 29th of January 2004 – Public procurement law, that contract shall remain in force until commencement of performance of the contract of public-private partnership.

Art. 11.

1. After expiration of the effective period of the contract of public-private partnership, the private partner or the company as specified in art. 14 section 1, shall transfer to the public entity the asset that was used for implementation of the project in the state that is not worse considering its wear resulting from appropriate use, unless the contract of public-private partnership provides otherwise.
2. The contract of public-private partnership may provide that transfer of the asset shall be done to a State or local government legal person or commercial company with the at least majority share of a unit of local government or State Treasury. Provision of art. 9 section 3 shall apply mutatis mutandis.
3. A claim by the public entity against the private partner or company specified in art. 14 section 1 concerning transfer of an asset shall be limited to 10 years as of the date of termination of the effective period of the contract of public-private partnership.

Art. 12.

1. In case of sale by the public entity or company specified in art. 14 section 1 of the real property that represented own contribution, the private partner shall have the right of first refusal that can be exercised within two months as of the date of notification given to him about the contents of the contract made with a third party, unless the contract of public-private partnership provides for a longer time.
2. The right of first refusal, on conditions specified in section 1, shall be that of the last private partner within one year after completing performance of the contract of public-private partnership, unless:
 - 1) the final decision of a court declared that partner responsible for inappropriate performance of commitments resulting from that contract or
 - 2) the public entity made a contract of public-private partnership with a new private partner.
3. The time specified in section 2 shall not commence, and if commenced, it shall be suspended, for the time of court proceedings concerning the responsibility for inappropriate performance of commitments resulting from the contract of public-private partnership by the private partner or proceedings concerning the selection of the new private partner.

Art. 13.

1. It shall be forbidden to amend the provisions of the contract of public-private partnership made in relation to the contents of the offer on the basis of which the private partner selection was made, unless the necessity of making such amendments results from the circumstances that could not be perceived at the time of concluding the contract.
2. Amendment of the contract in violation of the provisions of section 1 shall be null and void.

Chapter 4

Public-private partnership in the form of a company

Art. 14.

1. The contract of public-private partnership can provide that for the purpose of performance of it the public entity and the private partner shall establish a capital company, a limited partnership or a limited joint-stock partnership. The public entity may not be the general partner in such a company.
2. The goal and business of the company may not exceed the scope specified in the contract of public-private partnership.
3. The body of government administration that established the company as the public entity shall exercise the rights of shares or stocks in the company belonging to the State Treasury.

Art. 15.

Consent by all shareholders of the company shall be required for disposal or encumbrance of:

- 1) real property;

- 2) enterprise as defined in art. 55¹ of the Act of the 23rd of April 1964 – Civil Code.

Art. 16.

1. The public entity shall have the right of first refusal concerning shares or stocks of the private partner in the company.
2. The public entity may exercise the right of first refusal within two months as of being notified by the private partner about the content of the contract made with a third party, unless the contract of public-private partnership provides for a longer time.
3. Disposal of stocks or shares by a private partner in violation of sections 1 or 2 shall be null and void.

Chapter 5

Provisions in the domain of public finance

Art. 17.

The total amount up to which bodies of government administration can contract financial liabilities on the basis of contracts of public-private partnership in a given year shall be specified in the Budget Act.

Art. 18.

1. Financing of a project from the State budget in the amount exceeding PLN 100,000,000 shall require consent by the minister competent for public finance, excluding the funds allocated for financing of operational programs, that are specified in the Act of the 6th of December 2006 on principles of conducting the development policy (J.L.. No. 227, item 1658 and of 2007 No. 140, item 984). In issuing the consent the minister competent for public finance shall consider the influence of the planned budget expenditures on safety of public finance.
2. The consent specified in section 1 shall be issued on application by the public entity containing:

- 1) definition of the public entity;
 - 2) definition of the planned project;
 - 3) projected amount of State budget funds allocated during individual budgeting periods for project implementation.
3. The minister competent for public finance shall issue or refuse the consent within 6 weeks as of the date of receipt of the application. The consent or refusal of consent is not an administrative decision.
4. The public entity may file another application for issuance of consent as specified in section 1 for implementation of the same project in case of a change in the data specified in section 2 point 3. Provision of section 3 shall apply to repeated filing of the application.
